- Students must register for the introductory module, TL514, in the first semester of their first year on the programme.
- Participants can take core modules (indicated in blue) in any semester or year that suits them and within a timeframe that allows them to complete all modules within 4 years of first registering for the programme.
- TL517 is run in both semesters. Participants take either TL517 or TL517X but cannot register for both.
- TL520 is a capstone module and students should only register for this module when all other modules have been successfully completed.

The programme is open for Maynooth University staff currently in a teaching role. The reflective and practical nature of the teaching, learning and assessment approaches of the programme requires a teaching context for participants to learn and apply learning and to meet module and programme outcomes. It is therefore essential that those applying for the programme are teaching and assessing in a higher education context while participating on the programme.
