

School of Business

Research Seminar Series 2019-2020

“Two Decades of Research on Cultural Values”

Date: Friday 31, January 2020

Time: 1pm – 2pm

Venue: Rye Hall, North Campus

About the Event

In this research seminar I would like to introduce my research program to Maynooth colleagues. I will be reflecting on two decades of cross-national research that have shaped my career and my research program. I will not focus on findings of any particular study. Instead, I provide an overview of my earlier and more recent research streams and their links to each other. I highlight some events along the way that have spurred the evolution of my research program and helped to keep it going. The seminar may be of interest to early career researchers, who are thinking about their own path.

About the Speaker

Audra joined Maynooth University as Professor of International Business in 2019. She previously held tenured positions at Monash University in Australia and Victoria University of Wellington in New Zealand. Her interests center on cross-national large-scale research on global (virtual) teams, global and cross-cultural leadership, cultural values, language and distance factors in international business. Her work has been published in journals such as Journal of World Business, Journal of Business Ethics, Management International Review, International Business Review, and others. Audra serves on the editorial boards of Journal of World Business, Thunderbird International Business Review, and Baltic Journal of Management (Associate Editor).
