

Dean of Teaching & Learning Seminar Series 2023/24

The AX1 Sessions: A Masterclass Series in Good Design & its transferability into the Higher Education Classroom

The Dean of Teaching and Learning is delighted to host this series of Masterclasses in conjunction with Dr Threase Kessie, Design Innovation.

All of the masterclasses will focus on understanding how professional Designers have developed the skills of intellectual curiosity, creativity, adaptability, and empathy in their work, and how this understanding might help lecturers consider alternative ways of fostering these skills in the classroom.

Details:

Thursday 15 February – Roisin Markham, BDT Consultancy Ltd.

Thursday 29 February – Leah O'Donoghue, Illustrator and Visual Note Taker

Thursday 7 March – Eimear Mc Nally, Graphic Recorder, Illustrator and Systems Thinker

Thursday 14 March – Graham Nolan, Accenture

TBC – Eilis Skelly, Insight Innovate

TBC – Trevor Vaughn, Public Service Design Lead

Time:

All masterclasses will take place from 2pm to 4pm

Venue:

AX1, Auxilia Building, North Campus.

Each of the speakers will prepare a Design Thinking exercise which will be completed by the attendees at the end of each masterclass, which will see them consider how they could transfer what they have learned about fostering in intellectual curiosity, creativity, adaptability and empathy, and how they could apply this to their own Teaching and Learning.
