

"Connecting with these scholars and students that just want to research, write and go to class...that was something I identified with."

- Chris Tatara

From Student Advocacy Seminars to internships, Scholars at Risk offers a variety of opportunities for students to support at-risk scholars and promote academic freedom while gaining valuable professional experience. In this month's SAR Spotlight, Chris Tatara (Illinois Wesleyan University, Class of 2014) describes the impact working with SAR has had on his life, as well as the impact he has had on SAR.
