

Laptop computer Video Port Activation Chart

Computer Model	Key Command to Activate port	Key Command to Deactivate port
Apple	See Macintosh	See Macintosh
Compaq	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F4</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F4</li> </ul>
Dell	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F8</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F8</li> </ul>
Fujitsu	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F10</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F10</li> </ul>
Hewlett Packard	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F5</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F5</li> </ul>
IBM	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F7</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + F7</li> </ul>
Macintosh	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Select Monitor Icon on Control Strip; Select Resolution to match display device</li> <li>• Control Panel folder; Display folder; Activate Video Mirroring; warm reboot</li> <li>• Control Panel folder; Monitors; switch primary display by dragging white menu bar to Monitor 2</li> <li>• Many Macintosh computers are not compatible and have no external video port; in these cases there sometimes is a third party device available</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Select Monitor Icon on Control Strip; Select Resolution to match display device</li> <li>• Control Panel folder; Display folder; Deactivate Video Mirroring; warm reboot</li> <li>• Control Panel folder; Monitors; switch primary display by dragging white menu bar to Monitor 1</li> </ul>
Toshiba	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + End</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• FN + End</li> </ul>