This document gives our best estimate of the amount of on-campus teaching a student can expect in each subject. This refers ONLY to on-campus time, and students will have the normal schedule of lectures and tutorials with the remainder delivered online. The tables show the module code, the module credits, and the expected on-campus teaching.

This is intended as a guide and it may change over the coming weeks. The university plan is based on the policy guidelines in place at present. These determine that the maximum number in any venue is 50 students, and that students should be 2 metres apart where possible, and at least 1 metre apart. If these guidelines change, it may result in a change to the teaching plan.

The number in each module is not normally determined until after registration, so these plans are based on estimated numbers. If the numbers in a module are significantly different from expectations, this may also have an impact on the on-campus time.

First year students: Information on first year modules is included in a separate document, organised by CAO code.

Biology

Module	Cr	A. Our plan for on campus time this semester	B. Our plan for on campus time with the temporary measures introduced on 18 September
BI201	5	Tuesday tutorials (7 in total) are planned on campus with a maximum capacity of 50 in room. Attendance to tutorials will be based on students signing up for them. Rotations will be set to ensure that students wishing to avail of face-to-face teaching can all have such an experience as often and regularly as possible. All tutorials to be live streamed and recorded using Panopto. Students will get a total of 3 hours in person time for practicals.	1x 2 hrs for Practical 1 1x 1 hr for Practical 2 This is pending final student numbers which are considerably higher than usual (290 at the moment compared to 250). We may no longer be able to accommodate all students for practicals with the number of sessions available in the module. Waiting for final student numbers to make decision.
BI203	5	Every 5th lecture (22 lectures in this modules), so students can attend 4/5 lectures on campus – 5 hours Students will take 2 out of 3 practicals on campus – 4 hours Face-to-face time: 9 hours	Online: Recorded full lectures will also be made available online the day of the lecture with audio (using Panopto and/or Screencast-O-Matic) Practical sessions: Practical 1 is now completely online. Extra slots in the laboratory are now available so all students will be able to perform Practicals 2&3 in teaching lab 1, Biology dept. Each practical will last 2 hours. MCQs and other CA components will be run online through Moodle/TEAMS. Face-to-face time: 4 hours
BI205		Students will attend a double lecture (2 hours) every 3 weeks. Students will get 4-6 face to face lectures (group dependent), dependent on numbers.	Lectures will move online. Students will get a total of 4.5 hours in person time for practicals/workshops.

This document is a guide to on-campus teaching. There will be additional remote teaching in most modules.

		Students will get a total of 4.5 hours in person time for practicals/workshops
BI207		Students will attend an average of 1 lecture per week	No change
BI301	5	Students will attend 1 F2F lecture every 2 weeks. All lectures will be live-streamed. Students will get 2 hr in person time for the practicals.	Lectures either pre-recorded or live-streamed depending on the lecturer. Practical will proceed in line with current COVID-19 guidelines.

EC201	5	I will allow students to sign up into groups for live attendance. Depending on the size of the class (N) and the number that I am allowed have in the classroom $X = (82 \text{ or } 60 \text{ or } 50 \text{ or } 38 \text{ or } 27)$. Students will be able to come to a live class every (N/X) weeks.	Fully Online
EC205	5	Break class into four groups of 56 (225/4). Meet every 4th week face to face in scheduled lecture. Total: 6 hours face to face (25% of module)	Fully Online
EC216	5	The group will be divided in 4 smaller groups, each with about 12-15 students. I plan to have 4 themed meetings with each group, implying that I will need 2 weeks of lecture hours (4 hours) to allow each student to attend (going by the expected number of 50), amounting (from my perspective) to 16 hours of face-to-face meetings with students. This means that each student (if they attend all the meetings) will meet 4 times face-to-face with me and the members of their group throughout the semester.	Fully Online
EC230	5	1m rule applies, depending on the actualized class size, I will meet each student, 4-5 times during the term.	Fully Online

Education

Semester 1:

Module	Cr	A. Our plan for on campus time this semester	B. Our plan for on campus time with the temporary measures introduced on 18 September
ED207	10	The first and last lecture for this module will be delivered online. Otherwise, each week students will meet for a 2h lecture/seminar in smaller groups of 20-25. Within these small groups they will prepare and deliver a series of lessons and presentations in teams of 4. Please check course Moodle when it is available.	Online
ED208	10	One 50 min lecture/seminar every week to groups of 30. A flipped classroom approach will be used where readings and lectures will be accessed asynchronously before meeting in smaller groups for discussion. Students will be placed in teams of 4 and will prepare for seminars by responding to discussion prompts/task through our course Moodle. Students will attend class each week. Since there are multiple lecturers teaching this course, it is possible that this format may change to a weekly live-stream two hour lecture format, where half the class attends in-person and half the class joins remotely (and then switches the following week). You will be given advanced notice when this happens. Please check course Moodle when it is available.	Week 2 – Online Week 3 – In Person (Group A)
